A TRIBUTE AND APPRECIATION

Today we of the Chauvin District mourn a common loss in the passing of Leonard D'Albertanson, late editor of the Chauvin Chronicle, and public spirited citizen.

As one whose friendship with him arose from the common "bond of the pen,"—than which there are few truer ties,—it is my pleasure and privilege to pay a passing tribute to his worth.

It is unfortunately, easier for most of us to appraise the real value of a neighbour, of a friend in retrospect rather than as we go along, and inevitably there are virtues and valours which pass unrecognized as such in the blindness of our self absorption. Today we review the patient unobtrusive yet valient service rendered by our friend to the community with which he cast in his lot some 12 years ago, we are fain to confess that once again we have been, in a great measure blind, and too prone to take such service for granted. The service he gave freely over a long period to the work of the church and Sunday school, the independence of his stand as a private citizen, and as editor, leave records more lasting than memorials of stone, for they are part and parcel of our progress as a community.

It is of course in his weekly editorial that the real manner of man he was shone through. "As a man thinketh, so is he," and whether we differed or agreed with him he had the view point that proclaimed the broad disciplined mind behind the pen, the valiant independence,—at times, in face of expected criticism,—and afterwards a broad tolerance on all matters of lesser importance. At all times in such matters "he was his own man," and in these days, there can be no higher praise for those who wield the pen editorially.

On matters of education, of church, of community progress, and our duty towards it, of the spirit of sport, of fair play in business, or in the realm of politics, his expressed stand was so basically sound, that few thought to dispute further. Rather we said "That is just what I think myself." (the most sincere appreciation we humans, prone to egotism, can pay another).

The rule of his life, whether as editor, or citizen, was plain living and high thinking. With his subscribers he shared the common weal or woe of good and bad seasons. But even at the worst he kept his faith in the district and its future, and flew the flag of courage high even when prospects looked bleakest. In spite of much bodily weakness of late years, his mind was a rich garner house of splendid ideals, and to such as he the rich resources of the mind mean more than an accumulation of the gold which is here today and gone, maybe, tomorrow. As his immortal countenance

DEATH AND FUNERAL OF MRS ARTHUR SCOTT

The death of Mrs. Arthur Scott of Artland, took place on Wednesday last September 2nd, after a short illness at her home.

The deceased was born in Ontario in 1893, and came West last fall. On November 15th 1924 she was married to Mr. Arthur Scott of Artland. During the short time she has been amongst us she has gained the esteem and respect of all who knew her, and those who have been privileged to know her as a neighbor and friend.

The funeral was on Thursday, September 3rd. The service was Rev. P. F. McSween, took place at the home, at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. P. F. McSween; after which the cortege wended its way to Chauvin cemetery, where the body was interred.

The husband and one sister (Mrs. W. A. Scott) are left to mourn his loss.

Messrs Will Dundas; Sandy Scott; Pete Scott; Walter Scott; Max Scott and J. A. Scott acted as pall bearers.

We express our sympathy and the sympathy of the community with the bereaved.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Arthur Scott.

MEAT QUESTION IS BIG ISSUE IN BRITAIN

Cheap Argentine Product Beats Propaganda for Empire Meat

The meat question—whether British consumers shall be supplied with beef from Argentine—has been thrown into renewed prominence by the press discussion of the two reports published by the Imperial Economic Committee, the first on August 20 and the second on Wednesday, advising the study of the possibility of quicker transport to bring Canadian, Australian and New Zealand beef to the British market.

The committee's recommendations have involved the British government in a partial dilemma, owing to the necessity of protecting as far as possible the interests of British stock raisers. Although agriculture is constantly appealing to the government for help, the government can do but very little in this way because the country as a whole is determinedly opposed to anything in the shape of protective duties on foodstuffs.

The committee has come into conflict with a section of the members of parliament who are opposed to any course likely to injure the British farmer by its recommendations in favor of the removal of all embargoes on cattle shipments from the overseas dominions

PRODUCING FIELD IS NOW MOST THOROUGHLY PROVEN

Travelling to Wainwright on the flyer on Wednesday, those members of the Board of Trade of Edmonton who made the special trip for the purpose of seeing No. 3-B well of the British Petroleum Co. in action, were more than repaid for the several previous trips which some of them had made with no great satisfaction.

The party were fully of the opinion that the new producer is a real commercial proposition, and without doubt should prove the fore runner of numberless similar assets in this now fully proven field. Being met at the depot, the party was taken to the site by auto, and were soon deeply interested in the workings of the new big pump which had been specially brought in and installed to give this well a most exacting test as to capacity, and with chief Driller Frank Stevens in charge and "Happy" Tikens at the helm, the well is surely proving a producer on the B.P. sites.

Cleaner and Better Oil Sand

The well which is down to a depth of some 2,240 feet stands with about 500 feet of oil in the casing, despite the fact that the pump is continuously lifting sufficient to keep a three-inch discharge pipe throwing a steady stream of the fluid. This oil is being stored in earthen storage

PUBLISHER OF THE "CHAUVIN CHRONICLE" PASSES TO REWARD

The Weekly Newspaper world in general and the town of Chauvin in particular suffered a distinct loss on Wednesday last by the death of Mr. L. D'Albertanson, the proprietor of The Chauvin Chronicle, who passed away after many years of suffering from cancer of the stomach, at the early age of 46 years.

Mr D'Albertanson was truly one of the pioneers of the district, having homesteaded in the Lloydminster district in 1906 near the meridian bridge on the Battle river.

He was born in Westminster, London, England on February 25th, 1879 and in 1901 married Miss Ada Berry of Woolwich, England. They came to Canada early in 1906 and farmed for seven years on his homestead as stated above, after which they moved to Chauvin and founded The Chronicle which he has maintained ever since. The couple certainly shared to its fullest the pioneering hardships of the west, and in doing so have gained the esteem and respect of a wonderfully large circle of acquaintances.

Mr D'Albertanson always took a great interest in the advancement of the profession which he so ably represented, and was among the first members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and the Alberta Press Association from the inception of these organisations, being a fearless writer and always maintaining the courage of his convictions.

He has at different times held office in the bodies mentioned, as well as taking care of several church and fraternal positions, and in which he was held in highest esteem.

Some time ago he was taken ill and sought the best medical advice in his trouble, but although he was in the hands of the best authorities for his complaint, nothing could allay the awful suffering which he bore in silence until the end.

The funeral took place on Thursday when the Rev. P. McSween of Chauvin preached the funeral oration to a truly large assemblage. In accordance with the wishes of the deceased, the last rites were of a simple nature; being truly of a more striking character from that fact

The coffin which was covered with numerous floral tokens of respect was borne by Messrs D. Parcells, C. Ryan, W. Petrie, G. Bell, J. Swan and W. McCluskey as pall bearers, and followed to the Chauvin cemetery by possibly the longest procession of mourners ever seen in Chauvin, and the ceremony at the graveside which was conducted by the local lodge of Oddfellows and Masons, assisted by Rev. McSween was both solemn and impressive.

There are left to mourn the sad loss an aged mother, wife and two sons, Leonard and Raymond, and to these the heartfelt sympathies of friends extending over a marvellously wide area are extended.

Among the floral tributes were those from:—The Family, Westminster L.A., Westminster congregation and S.S., Mr and Mrs L. Nicholson, Mr and Mrs G. Silk, Mr and Mrs Hurst, Mr and Mrs W. Huntingford, Wainwright, Mr and Mrs Charski, Mr and Mrs G. McNutt, Mr and Mrs F. Fahner, Mr and Mrs T. Saul, Mr and Mrs W. Harris, Mr and Mrs A. Scott, Mr and Mrs H. Bingham, and The Alberta Press Association.

SPADE WORK THAT GETS THE TRADE

To get steady sales in satisfactory volume, you must build up confidence in your store and its service.

Advertising in The Chauvin Chronicle will lay the foundation of such confidence. Advertising does the spade work that leads to bigger sales. It will tell folks about your store, its service. It will tell them about the goods you have to offer.

tryman put it, in "King Henry VI"—
"My crown is in my heart, not on my head,
Not decked with diamonds, and and Indian stones,
Nor to be seen;—my crown's called content.
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy."

By his death local organizations have lost a valuable prop. The agricultural society whose cause he preached so generously well, the U.F. locals and their various enterprises found his columns unfailingly open to help. It was only lately that the chief organizer for the various new pools said to the writer, that of all the rural weeklies in the province the Chauvin Chronicle had done most for the pools in the matter of free space, I think we feel he was right, due in great measure to the farmers' cause being the editor's chief concern, and those who appreciated him most were those who knew him best. Not by measure of years do we measure the worth of the citizen, but by the service he renders, and though the tired hands are at rest, and the pen laid down for the last time, and mortal has put on immortality, the measure of his service will but strengthen with the years, and in our remembrances for it forms part of our life and work.
"We live in deeds, not years."
In heart throbs, not in figures on a dial,"

And in this knowledge may the sorrowing hearts left behind work in which they have already borne an honorable share, while knowing that for their loved one there is no more pain, neither sorrow nor death.

For him the summons has come in the season at times associated with the fall of the leaf, and the changing tints of nature presaging inevitable decay. But is it not, in even surer measure the season of fulfillment, of the fruition of our springtime hope and toil, in golden measure?

And so with our friend. Life's meed of service valiantly rendered, life's last hard battle past, he has entered into the rest that remaineth.

BARNADO WORK IN CANADA CEASE CRITICISM IS CAUSED

TORONTO,—Activities of the Dr Barnardo's boys' home in Canada have ceased, according to a statement made here by John W. Hobday, superintendent of the home in this city. "Influenced by the constant criticism of irresponsible persons the Dominion government without any investigation whatever, refused to allow immigration of young children," declared Mr Hobday. "Our people then decided to stop bringing out children altogether."

Work for Dr Barnardo's boys' homes has been going on steadily in this country for 40 years. The order of the Dominion immigration department prohibiting immigration of boys under 14 years of age, became ineffective in April last. A party of boys under 14 were brought out in the spring but it was decided not to bring the usual summer party.

You will need a new pair of glasses for this fall and winter's reading. A few dollars invested in a pair of glasses gives you untold comfort and saves energy that is otherwise wasted.

SPRING WHEAT DATES

Returns received at Ottawa show that the sowing of spring wheat in the provinces named was generally a little earlier this year than in 1924, Alberta excepted. In Quebec April 11 as against April 15; in Ontario, March 28 against April 12; in Manitoba, March 30 against April 5; Saskatchewan, April 1 against April 10, in Alberta April 6 against April 1, and British Columbia, April 1. In some districts in Alberta surface water delayed sowing. Germination was slow owing to the cold nights, the average being about 13 days.

The earliest dates of appearance above ground this year were; Quebec, April 24; Ontario April 14; Manitoba, April 10; Saskatchewan, April 15; Alberta, April 12; British Columbia, April 7.

DEPOSITORS WILL GET MORE MONEY

TORONTO, Depositors of sums of less than $500 in the Home Bank of Canada will receive part payment of their claims within 10 days, according to I. E. Weldon, one of the liquidators. Claimants are to be paid 35 cents on the dollar.

Mr Weldon said the money to cover this payment was expected from the government within a few days and it would then be distributed to the various parts of the Dominion where the Home Bank had branches.

A large migration of farmers from Holland to Canada is expected to take place this year, owing to the shortage of land in the little Dutch kingdom. Agents of the Dominion government at The Hague and Rotterdam are preparing for the movement. According to press dispatches from the east, these Dutch farmers are turning to Canada for their opportunity, and most of them will be located in the prairie provinces.

The Alberta Salt company, which is operating on the Athabaska river, north of Fort McMurray, began shipping to Edmonton th latter part of June. The plant is producing about twenty-five tons per day at the present time. 1/4

PRAISE BUFFALO PARK

From the Wainwright Star.

Mrs. Anna Ingraham of California travelling around the world on one of her several tours, accompanied by her nephew, Irving Anthofer, stopped off here for two days and made an extended tour of the Buffalo Park and surrounding country. Although to such experienced travellers it naturally requires something truly of interest to stir up great enthusiasm, these tourists were unstinted in their praise of the most unique views spread before them as they travelled for miles by car through the Dominion Buffalo park and saw the thousands of buffalo, together with the many other animals of the wilds, roaming in their natural state in the preserve. It was stated by Mr. Anthofer that the scenes here, together with that afforded at Jasper were probably the most interesting points which they had seen.

CANADA NEXT WORLD OIL RESERVOIR

With wells drilling all the way from the American boundary line to the Arctic circle, and a number already producing oil, signs point to the development in the near future of oil-fields in Canada which will rank with the greatest American fields. As a world oil reservoir, the United States is at its peak if, indeed, the peak has not already been passed and the attention of the great companies is focused on the areas north of the 49th parallel, says the Calgary Herald.

Seriatim, the Western Canada fields which offer the brightest prospects are: The dome structures 25 to 30 miles east of Coutts, on which the great Rogers-Imperial gas well is located and where the Imperial Oil, Limited, is hoping to "bring in" another oil well shortly besides arranging to drill a third.

The Sweetgrass arch structure, on a continuation of which the Urban Oil Company is drilling and has a well down 1,800 feet near the town of Coutts.

The Rice Creek structure, a Rocky mountain foothill anticline west of the town of Nanton, where the Imperial Oil is drilling.

The dome structures of the great Alberta syncline at Foremost, where the Canadian Western Natural Gas Light, Heat and Power Company struck an oil sand in its No. 5 well and similar structures at Medicine Hat where several other companies are drilling, as in the vicinity of Medicine Hat and at Many Island lake.

The famous Turner Valley, 45 miles southwest of Calgary, where the richest oil well in Canada, the Royalite No. 4 naphtha gusher, is producing 500 barrels per day of 73 gravity oil and many other wells are racing downward. This is also a Rocky mountain foothill anticline structure and others of this classification are the anticlines in the Bragg Creek area and the anticline at Jumping Pound, just west of Calgary, also the fields west of Olds.

The Viking field and the Wainwright and Fabian structures, subsidiaries of the great Alberta syncline belonging in the classification of the foremost field and Medicine Hat structures. The British Petroleum 3B well is on one of these at Wainwright.

The Coalspur anticline west of Edmonton where the Imperial Oil is drilling.

As a matter of fact similar structures parallel more or less to the ranges of the Rocky Mountain right up to Fort Norman, where the Imperial Oil struck oil in 1920 and is drilling again this year. Many other known structures exist besides those mentioned and geologists are positive that still others will be discovered in the detailed search now progressing.

One cause of the great revival in the search for oil in Canada is the development of oil drilling machinery making it perfectly feasible to drill to depths of 5,000 and 6,000 feet.

Along with the legitimate development going on, all the concomitants of fake oil companies, fly-by-night promoters, and widow and orphan robbers are certain to come, too. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Threshers Goggles—the most satisfactory procurable at the price 75c. McKechnie's Drug and Stationery.

Another shipment of Victory Jars arrived at Saker's this week.

Don't fail to see Zane Grey's "The Border Legion". Full of the thrills of the border. To be shown at Chauvin Sept 14 and at Edgerton, Sept. 15th.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

The man who got to the top probably did not wait for the lift. He climbed the stairs. The man who got to the gate where the were out of bed.

There will always be plenty of room at the top. It's the bottom that's crowded. In the middle of the field, where the crack players are, there's room and to spare. It's the lookers on that are squeezed. That's why the grumbler is really grumbling against himself. While he is grumbling the other fellow is beating him.

Grousing never got anyone anywhere; never did anything—and never will. A merry heart and a willing hand—these are two excellent things to have. The big drum can drown the band; but it is the man who can play all the instruments who leads it. He doesn't say much, but everybody knows he's there. He makes himself felt—because he has the knowledge.

It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.

Flowers bloom whether anyone looks at them or not. Have you less sense than a flower?

TO LEONARD D'ALBERTANSON

The last few hours of pain and toil are spent;

The last sad moments gone—; And with a smile of peace and sweet content—

He has passed on. Racked tho' his body was with angry pain—

Yet still the while He suffered silently—and when his time came;

He met death with a smile.

To live his life in Christian steadfastness— That was his pride. Only his loved ones saw the smile of happiness

With which he died. He has passed on—but still his spirit lives; Ah! pause awhile— And learn the lesson that his spirit gives.— The value of a smile.

To know his days were spent—that human skill Could not avail. Yet he could smile at death—and by his will Conquer his body frail.

And Gran—dear Gran—when your tired feet have trod This earth a little while; Then—clasped into the arms of your dear God; You'll see his smile.

PRODUCING FIELD IS NOW MOST THOROUGHLY PROVEN

tanks, and it is understood that the order is on file for the supply of several more carloads to Railways for use in their oil-burning engines at McBride, B.C.

It is noticeable now that the oil sand with something better than thirty feet in thickness, is of a clean and better carrying capacity than the strata previously struck in the former wells, and this is mentioned as portending a better and steadier production of the crude, especially as the oil is of a much lighter grade than was previously encountered.

Interference Being Prevented

With regard to other work at the site, old No. 3 well is now being sealed off so as to stop any interference which might arise in the new hole, which is only a few rods from the former hole. The machinery for this purpose is under installation, and in this way the production from the new hole, is being protected by all possible means.

which is to be shipped to the Canadian National Railways, are expected in this week, and possibly thereafter there will be a steady run of these cars to the mountain districts, where the company engines will be using this crude commodity.

The list of visitors from the city included Messrs J. M. Imrie, vice-president; John Michaels, Dr. J. Allan, professor of geology at the University of Alberta; W. Findlay, L. Lowry, J. Bond, H. Cooper, S. Smith, H. Douglas G. Wilkinson, W. Wilkinson, W. Sheffield, J. Pabey and W. Howson, all of whom are members of the council of the Edmonton board of trade.

Provincial Geologist Interviewed

In an interview with Dr Allan, professor of geology at the University of Alberta, that gentleman stated that "if the flow continues at the rate at which it is producing at the present time there is no doubt that No. 3-B, will be a real producer."

Regarding the character of the oil Dr Allan says that "the oil is the best grade of oil yet found in this field, and is of a quality valuable as fuel oil. At present the quantity is not an important factor, the main point being that fuel oil is a proven factor of this Wainwright field, and that this should be of sufficient value to the field to warrant scores of drilling rigs entering this field. The crude oil of the field at present is shown to be of greater producing average than even that given as the average of the Sunburst field.

"The eventual products that might be available from treatment of the crude oil and not of great importance the fact of it being fuel oil proving fully sufficient for the advancement of the field.

"An important point is that the major structure of this field is of great extent, running for many miles in a northwesterly direction as far as Birch Lake."

New Companies For This Field

New oil companies are preparing to enter the Wainwright field so that a brisk period of fall operations is assured. Plans for active drilling are now being made and it seems certain that within a short time the prospects for more producing wells will be exceptionally bright.

One of the new concerns is the Anglo-Alberta Oils Limited, which is composed of Dave Credille, well-known chief driller and the man who brought in No. 2 B.P. well, and associates. They have acquired acreage adjoining the British Petroleum well No. 3 and are going to sink a well on this property. The drilling site is near No. 3-B well which is now making such a fine show ing under pumping operations. The new company expects to be drilling within 30 days and expects to have the hole completed and into production this fall.

The Dome Oil company has a representative in California at the present time negotiating for a Rotary rig and it is expected that drilling will be undertaken this fall.

A. B. Palmer of Vancouver, president of the Western Consolidated Oil company, has arrived in Edmonton to look over the local situation. He stated on Wednesday that the delay in drilling had been caused by the 8 1/4 inch casing freezing up. Now that equipment had been obtained to release the piping, drilling can be continued right away. The well is now down 1,500 feet and it is the intention to complete it this fall.

May Seek Gov't Aid

Mr Palmer strongly emphasized the need of a deep test hole in the Wainwright field and has already discussed the matter with members of the provincial government. He suggests that a vote of $50,000 be made by the Alberta government and a like amount by the dominion government so that the available funds could be used for a well that would be a thorough test of the lower formations in the field.

Vancouver people are showing great interest in the possibilities of the Wainwright field, declares Mr Palmer. In fact, there is more interest at the coast than in Edmonton, he says.

Testing New Oil-burning Engine.

A unique train, the first of its kind in the world, was tried out over the Canadian National railways line from Peterboro to Lakefield Tuesday afternoon. The fuel cost was only two cents a mile, as compared with 20 to 26 cents a mile, as compared with other trains pulling the same load.

The train, consisting of a car and a trailer, is driven by a four cylinder 200 horsepower oil fuel engine directly connected with an electric generator which furnishes the motive power. The entire combination is an empire product, the coaches being built at Point St. Charles and the engines by a British company at Rugby, England.

The car made an average speed of 50 miles an hour. Five miles were travelled on one gallon of oil.

SWALLOW THIS ONE!

A shark had been following a liner for some time. As this is looked upon by sailors as a sign of bad luck, a trestle was thrown at the monster in an endeavor to scare it away. But it just swallowed the trestle and came for more, which it got in the shape of a box of oranges. This went the same way as the trestle.

Amid the general excitement a Jew fell overboard, whereupon a sailor at once dived to the rescue. But it was of no avail, for the shark swallowed them both.

Eventually the shark was caught, and when it was cut open in the hope that the men might be rescued, the Jew was discovered sitting on the trestle trying to sell the oranges to his would-be rescuer.

A party of British Journalists is now touring Canada at the invitation of President E. W. Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the purpose of gaining first hand knowledge of economic and industrial conditions in this country. They are John A. Buist, Glasgow Herald; C. J. Jory, London Daily Telegraph; F. R. Peterson, London Times; H. Read, South Wales Daily News, Cardiff; Captain E. Altham, London Morning Post; Hugh Martin, London Daily News; R. A. The total number of students in Canadian universities and colleges in 1924 was 52,639, or nearly one in eighteen of the total population, according to a bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Under the category of colleges, the total number in 1924 was 83. Of this total six are agricultural, two technical, two law, one dental, one for pharmacy, one for veterinary science, 28 theological, 39 affiliated, one school for higher commercial studies, one college of art and one military college.

During the coming winter Canada will see the debut of a new transportation device known as the Snow-motor. This consists of two hollow cigar shaped cylinders or drums to which flanges, resembling cork screws, are attached. These drums are fixed to an automobile or tractor in the place of the wheels and, by rotating actually float the machine over the snow. The snow-motor is regarded as especially valuable in the transportation of lumber; it can negotiate snow of any depth and can operate in countries where other methods of transportation are impossible or too costly and can also make roads which other vehicles can use. It is manufactured in Detroit and will be on the market in Montreal during the coming winter.

WHY TIGERS ARE STRIPED

At an examination a boy was asked to state why a tiger is striped, and he wrote:—

"It is striped because it makes it better for the circus proprietors. If a tiger escapes from a circus it is easier to find him than if he had no stripes. He will not go far without someone noticing that he is not a horse or a dog, on account of his stripes, and calling up and asking the circus people if they have lost a tiger."

THE ROYAL BANK IS NOW OPERATING 800 CANADIAN BRANCHES

To the mind of the average person the name, The Royal Bank of Canada does not adequately convey the manifold activities of this Canadian institution with over 800 branches in Canada and with over 100 branches established in other countries, as well as in London, New York and Paris nor does the average business man realize the wide and varied service this Bank is able to render without going outside its own organization.

The Royal Bank of Canada has done much to foster Canadian trade abroad and the value of its service to exporters and importers lies, not in its regular banking business alone, but also in its willingness at all times to supply information regarding markets and marketing conditions, tariffs and confidential credit reports, etc. The value of this type of service is to be found in the fact that information is gathered direct by Managers who are not only on the spot, but know intimately local conditions.

In a little over fifty years the bank has grown from a purely local bank to an institution of international importance and to-day holds a foremost position amongst the great banks of the world.

The Royal Bank of Canada was incorporated in 1869 as "The Merchants Bank of Halifax." Its name was changed to the present title on January 1 1901. The Head Office was transferred from Halifax to Montreal on March 2 1907.

During the last two decades, a vigorous policy of expansion has been followed. The assets of The Union Bank of Halifax were purchased by The Royal Bank of Canada on November 1, 1910; of The Traders Bank of Canada on September 1, 1912; of The Quebec Bank on January 2, 1917, and of The Northern Crown Bank on July 2 1918.

The purchase of The Union Bank of Canada has added another 270 offices to The Royal Bank's original chain of branches in Canada, thus giving the Bank a total of over 800 branches in the Dominion and more than 100 abroad. The merger will bring the total assets of The Royal Bank of Canada well over $600,000,000.

The absorption of the Branches of The Union Bank of Canada by The Royal Bank of Canada was effected on September 1, 1925.

PEKING PILLS

What is probably the oldest and certainly the most famous drug store in China is the Tung Jen Tang, which dates from A.D. 1500. It is situated outside the Tartar wall that separates the north from the south section of the city of Peking, and is still a flourishing business. The proprietor to-day is a direct descendant of the man who established the business.

Most Chinese drug stores become famous on account of some special preparation or compound that can be had only from them, and the Tung Jen Tang is no exception (says a writer in the Pharmaceutical Journal). The proprietor prepares special pills. They are about the size of a walnut, and some are coated with white wax. One large pill is usually divided by the patient into fifty or one hundred small pills and taken as directed.

AN EXTENSION LIBRARY
AT THE OLDS SCHOOL OF AGRICULEURE

A healthy sign of the increased interest in things both scientific and cultural is manifested in the marked vigor shown by the students and ex-students in organizing and supporting the new Students' Library at the Olds school of Agriculture.

This library is auxiliary to and separate from the existing scientific and reference library at the school. It contains at present some 400 volumes comprised of the best in fiction, history, science athletics, economics, philosophy and humor.

The library was founded and organized by the students of 1924 and 1925 under the direction of Mr Churchill, Instructor of mathematics at the school. It has been supported almost entirely by donations from the students and Alumni. The library is rapidly increasing in size and scope and by November it is expected to have well over 1000 volumes for circulation. This however is regarded as the beginning only of a library and extension service that will fill a long felt need in rural Alberta. It is hoped that the government may see its way to assist in the expansion of the library and that in a very short time it may be made open to the public generally to whom it should prove a valuable adjunct to the existing sources of information and education.

All students and ex-students are entitled to use the library. In addition, outsiders who wish to avail themselves of the privileges of the library may do so upon the payment of a membership fee of One Dollar.

Books will be mailed post-paid to those wishing them and they may be kept one month when they are to be returned at the borrower's expense.

Lists of the books now in the library may be obtained upon request from the O.S.A.

In addition to the regular loan service of books, the library will have a magazine reference department in which valuable articles from the best journals will be filed, and these will be available to those desiring information for debates, speeches and articles, and for research and purely informative purposes, on all topics of general and scientific interest.

It is the aim of those in charge of the library to give a service somewhat similar to that of the university Extension library, but which will be more readily available, through the ex-students to the rural population. It is realized that the people of rural Alberta are demanding a higher standard in literature and more exact scientific knowledge and with this in view the books have been selected with more than ordinary care.

Foreign Supplies Cheaper Than Imperial Beef

There is a consensus of opinion that the question of importing beef from the dominions is largely a matter of price, and that while Argentina and other foreign countries supply cheaper meat than the dominions can, no attempt to stimulate the demand for empire meat will be of much avail.

Argentine Beef Is Cheapest
And Best

Henry Adam, treasurer of the National Federation of Meat Traders, contended that of all the imported meats, the Argentine product is the best and cheapest, and he believed that while this continued to be the case, attempts to boost the imperial article could have little result.

Grain figures issued by the Harbor Commission of Montreal show that on August 1st all grain shipment records were broken by one day's delivery of 2,277,712 bushels of grain to outgoing ships. Harbor officials state that this is the first time that grain shipments in one day have topped the two million bushel mark.

Installation of machinery at the new annex of the Dominion Textile Mill at Montmorency Falls, Quebec, will be started by January first next. About 300 additional employees will be required to operate the plant. At present there are about 1,300 employed at the mills.

A prophecy that the Orient would become in the very near future a really large importer of Canadian wheat was made recently by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works. In predicting increased Orient trade in grain, Dr. King pointed out that imports of wheat from Canada for 1923-1924 increased by 400 per cent.

Over fifteen thousand men left the east on the first harvesters excursion from the east to the wheat fields in the middle of August. Four other excursions are to follow from Toronto later in August and September, when it is expected that the majority of the remainder of the 50,000 men required for the harvest will travel west.
